SPACE ARCHITECTURE SYMPOSIUM

23.09.2022

The Space Architecture Technical Committee (AIAA) in cooperation with RST Arches invites you to join a day-long symposium discussing selected topics of recent milestones in space architecture, as well as current and future opportunities in this field. The fifth Space Architecture Symposium has a special focus on space architecture activities in France. Join the Space Architecture community in this exchange and networking event to learn more about and become active in the next steps for space architecture.
